Current Situation

- According to the mayor of Al-Waleed Sub-district, Akashat is an industrial area with 600 houses in the center, surrounded by more than 7 villages. An estimated 3,000 individuals lived in the city prior to their displacement. According to local authority, the total number of individuals was 5000 for the city and the surrounding villages. The mayor stated that Akashat is a blocked area under the control of the PMF (military area now) and all its people are displaced in Qaim, Rutba, and other cities. According to him, all the city infrastructure has been destroyed as well as most of the houses. The most urgent needs for IDPs to return are a police station, a civil defense detachment, houses rehabilitation, electricity network, WASH services, school rehabilitation, and livelihoods.
- The PMF representative, Mr. Abbas, said that currently, the PMF 13th Brigade controls the security and administrative situation in Akashat, adding that the PMF are using some houses and government institutions that need them to find an alternative, pointing out that they have preserved the property and citizens homes, however, the presence of ISIL in the past and the recent (February 2024) American strike which affected some houses.

Note: for more information about the history and the current situation of IDPs from Akashat please refer to the Akashat Community Dialogue notes from March 2024.

Re-opening Akashat

- Following the community dialogues and the request from the community members, the RWG advocated for the reopening of Akashat to enable the IDPs to resolve their displacement situation especially in light of the Council of Minister Decision to close camps which has been perceived as potentially leading to the neglect/leaving behind of the numerous IDPs who are in out of camp situations. Local government authorities have the responsibility to support all IDPs to find and achieve durable solutions.
- The RWG shared a summary of the previous activity when Akashat IDPs and community representatives expressed their desire to return to Akashat.
- During the discussion, Saad Ghazi, a member of Anbar Provincial Council, requested the PMF to allow these families to return IDPs as people cannot live in dignity unless they are in their AoOs, pointing out that the decision is now in PMFs hands, "we are ready to support the return efforts".
- The deputy governor emphasized the need to re-open the area and bring the IDPs, who are willing, back to their homes. He said that the police can take the security responsibility inside the city, while the PMF can relocate outside protecting the city from external violations, in coordination with Al-Jazirah Operations Command.
- According to the PMF representative, Mr. Abbas, the PMF do not mind re-opening the city to IDPs to return, expressing the PMUs readiness to cooperate with all government agencies to return the displaced families. "Our first and last principle is citizen safety that should be very well considered".
- The deputy police commander affirmed that the police command can re-open a police station in Akashat, providing security, in addition to a civil defense detachment and emergency regiments.
- As a next step the PMUs representative, Mr. Abbas, invited all attendees to hold the next meeting in Akashat to develop a detailed plan to evacuate houses and any other governmental buildings used by the PMF, assess basic needs, and act to re-open the city.
- Abdul Qadir Hameed, assistant of PMUs commander in Anbar Operations, who is a retired brigadier general, pointing out the importance of excluding families with perceived ISIL affiliation from returning to the city to preserve social cohesion and prevent any efforts to destabilize the situation after re-opening the area and returning the families. He also stressed that security should be always the priority to everyone, especially as ISIL danger still exists, mentioning an example of an offensive by ISIL militants few days prior the meeting.

Landmines and explosive remnants

According to the PMU representative, there are 6 houses that are contaminated with explosive materials. He also added that all visits or entry into Akashat must be with approval from PMF for security reasons. The deputy governor mentioned that there should be a coordination with the demining department and international organizations working in this field. The deputy governor asked the police commander to oversee coordinating with the Demining Affairs Department and RWG to coordinate with international organization for assistance on demining. NPA representative mentioned that his organization has worked closely with local authorities to support demining efforts in other areas and will discuss the possibility of interventions in Akashat to support the authority.

Challenges and needs

- The deputy governor affirmed that the local government will be responsible for providing basic services, and as a first step he instructed the set-up of technical committees from Rutba to assess the needs. He added that “with all challenges and delays with property compensations, the INGOs role to support on shelter rehabilitation would be very essential”.
- The PMU representative said that the return of IDPs requires effective and serious intervention from all governmental and non-governmental agencies because the availability of basic services in the city will influence the desire of the IDPs to return to not. He added that the PMUs will support the government and facilitate all its access needs to assess the needs inside the city.
- Ms. Suad AL-Obaidu, member of Anbar Provincial Council, raised several concerns, including rehabilitation of houses after they are checked for UXO clearance, the ministry of industry to reactivate the Phosphate mine in Akashat, provide all the basic services such as health, education, and emphasizing the importance of coordinating the returns with all stakeholders.
